To Serve You Better

It is a well-known fact that there are many citizens in our community that are temporarily or permanently disabled - psychologically, socially, or physically - by alcohol. Their disabilities bring immense distress and danger to other citizens in the community. No citizen can be sure that his own life will not suffer some unanticipated pain or disaster brought about by others acting under the impact of alcohol. It is really no wonder that there must be public as well as private efforts directed toward the control and reduction of alcohol-related problems.

One effort being employed now in Crawford County is the Court Referral-Alcohol Education Program. This program, sponsored by the Office of Substance Abuse and employed by the District #1 and Tri-county Health Departments is used by Judges to help start the process of recovery for the alcohol-related offender. It is by nature informational consisting of six sessions designed to inform people about beverage alcohol and its effect on Mental and Physical health. There are three phases to the program, Alcohol Education, Alcohol-Highway safety and the Law, and Alcoholism information. These classes are informative, interesting and employ all of the latest findings in the research being done in the field of Alcohol and Alcoholism. Films, speakers and other materials make it a class well worth participating in. These classes are open to the public and will be starting Thursday, July 18 - 7:30 to 9:30 at the Grayling High School. For more information call:

GRAYLING, MICHIGAN—THURSDAY, JULY 11, 1974

A Tip of the Hat

Once again we give the Tip of the Hat, to everyone who worked in making another 4th of July celebration in Grayling a huge success.

Although the weatherman did not cooperate, members of the Booster Club, and members of other organizations, were undaunted in their efforts to carry on the several events during the day.

With the country celebrating its 200th birthday in 1976, we look forward to Grayling's participation in this bi-centennial celebration, because of the cooperation shown in the past by the businesses and citizens of Grayling, in their efforts in promoting our area.

End Of The Road

U.S. Senator Sam Ervin spoke to the nation some months ago in what might be said to be commemoration of the first $300-billion-plus budget of the federal government. He said this budget "breaks the $300 billion barrier, lifts the federal debt above the half-trillion mark, increases federal spending $36 billion above the amount first estimated for this year, (1974) requires $30 billion just to pay interest costs on the public debt, and delivers the fourteenth budget deficit in the past 15 years. At the rate the budget is growing, it will exceed $400 billion during this decade. By the time the U.S. celebrates the 200th anniversary of the Declaration of Independence in 1976, the government will be spending more than $1 billion a day, with no letup on Sundays or holidays."

Behind these awesome figures is the story of inflation. It is still not too late to read that story and do something about it. Congress is working on a "Budget Reform Act" to help remove what Senator Ervin described as a "...sense of helplessness" that pervades current congressional attempts at budget making. However, there can be no budget reform in Congress unless the people back up the effort with less demand on the federal treasury for government assistance in every facet of life.

The end of the road of government-promised security for everyone on the cradle to the grave has been reached, and there is no security except that which stems from citizen self-restraint. Only the voters can curtail the great grab that is slowly but surely turning the federal treasury into a depository for trunksful of worthless paper.

Local OES Chapter Hosts State Grand Officers June 18

On Tuesday evening, June 18th, Grayling Chapter #83, Order of the Eastern Star, was host to the Worthy Grand Matron, Mrs. Caroline Everett, Mr. Robert Marple, Worthy Grand Patron, their grand officers and grand committee members on the occasion of a dinner and reception honoring Mrs. Irene Peterson, a member of the Praying Hands Committee. The event was held in the Grayling High School, where some 200 members and friends had gathered to pay tribute to Mrs. Peterson, and for an evening of sociability.

The social hour began at 5 o'clock with the guests centering about a table laden with an attractive and appetizing variety of hors d'oeuvres and punch. Following this, the guests came through the receiving line into the dining area where the tables were beautifully decorated with pink and purple streamers and an arrangement of white and pink carnations. At each place was a small plaque of praying hands. The grand officers and grand committee members each received a gift of a purple candle, fashioned from a mold of the praying hands. On behalf of the chapter, the Worthy Matron, Mrs. AnnaBelle Armstrong, presented Mrs. Everett with a check to be used for her special project for the year.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

From Calvary Baptist Church
"On Responsibility for Crime"

From the beginning of human history man has attempted to avoid his personal responsibility for sin and crime. Adam blamed Eve and Eve blamed the serpent, yet God judged all three guilty as individuals.

We are presently living in an era when society is blamed for the crimes of the individual criminal. We are repeatedly told how we have failed to properly educate him, failed to give him economic stability, and failed to give him a good environment in which to develop. After he is arrested we are warned to guard carefully his civil rights, and make every attempt to restrain or rehabilitate him in the areas we have failed him.

For example, when we read of someone killing a dozen or more innocent people, the first response we often hear is, "where did society fail this poor soul?" We seem to gloss over how the individual has failed society and particularly the innocent victims he murdered.

There is not only unreasonableness, but also inconsistency throughout our present thinking. People stress the rights of individuals to act according to the dictates of their own conscience in refusing to fight for their own country. Yet these same individuals blame society and not the individual when he kills his own neighbor at home. Why is it considered his responsibility if he kills by command of his country, and his country's responsibility if he kills by his own choice at home?

It would appear logical that if people are going to have absolute freedom to learn, believe and practice what they please in this country, then they should be expected to accept full responsibility for the consequences. When people learn that it is beautiful to kill "pigs" in the S.L.A., then they should not be surprised at the consequences.

If the present trend continues and society accepts the responsibility for crime, then behaviorism is inevitable. If society or government is to be responsible for the actions of their citizens, then society will soon determine what man will learn, and how he will think and act. We will then become programmed to respond in accord with the will of a few intellectuals who will control our country.

May God help us as a nation to return to individual responsibility for our actions before it is too late. "The soul that sinneth, it shall die. The son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son: the righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon him." Ezekiel 18:20. Jesus Christ is going to judge us someday for our own words, Matthew 12:37, and for our own actions, Revelation 2:23. God will blame individuals, not society, for their sins. May we accept now what is inevitable for eternity.

Unless the citizens of our nation return to a sense of individual responsibility for our sins and crimes, we will lose all of our basic freedoms.

Blood Program

By Clara Sorenson

A report from the Red Cross Blood Program shows a registry of one of the world's largest - containing names of over 6,800 persons who have unusual blood types. When it is needed in this country or abroad, the Red Cross can check the registry to find donors, located around the nation.

During the past year Red Cross provided hospitals with 818,233 units of fresh and frozen blood cells used in treating anemia, and 287,027 units used to treat bleeders, and 425,757 units of plasma for clotting and leukemia and cancer.

Fact! That is a lot of blood that came from donors who are willing to participate in our program. It is a privilege to be a blood donor. Will you be one of these on July 15 at the American Legion Building from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m.? Blood is Life. Blood is Beautiful. Let us have yours.

Most people think the Red Cross Blood Bank is free. It is - to you, but it cost this Crawford County Chapter $476.00 last year. We will pay less this year. We will pay 5 cents per capita for the whole County.

Jack Pine's Stump

The rains of the Fourth may have soaked everything else, but failed to dampen the spirits of the several hundreds who turned out for the many events sponsored by the Booster Club. Club officials have said that, in spite of the rain, the activities of the Fourth were a financial success and the proceeds will be used, as usual, to benefit Grayling area youth. Which is all very good, methinks. The food tents sold out of some items and were nearly sold out of the rest when the fireworks ended. I hate to think how early supplies might have been exhausted if the weather was warm and sunny. But the most amazing thing to me has always been the dedication of those who work on Booster Club activities. There is a hard core of a few who work all day on every and all activities and several others who manage to help out at most events. And a hundred or so who will willingly work when called upon. But that first hard core group really works. Most were up and starting work at five AM and still working at cleaning up at midnight. That's dedication. And then, unbelievably, most of the same group were back again at eight in the morning to finish up. I think those people should be thanked by the whole community, and while I know most of the names, I won't mention them. They wouldn't like it, and, besides, I might leave someone out, and that would not be good at all.

Just around midnight that night, when the men were loading up a big truck with stuff from the tents, it was necessary to move the vehicle from one tent to another. The driver, who admitted no experience with a truck that size, had a miserable time, and it was nearly fifteen minutes later when he backed over the curb and to the second tent. Sometime in the process the sliding door at the back had come crashing down. No one saw it happen, and when the truck got to the second tent an umbrella was noticed sticking, badly bent, from under the door. Someone commented that it was 's umbrella and just then a voice was heard from inside saying, among a few other unprintable things, that his fingers were under the umbrella - and door - and he devoutly wished that someone would raise the "blessed" door. It really is a miracle his fingers were broken, although I did hear later that his wife was a bit displeased with the broken umbrella. I don't know whether he would have been better off with broken fingers and a healthy umbrella or not, and I haven't got the courage to ask.

JP.

Saga of the White Pine (continued again). I finally got a saw which ran and cut well. Only the blade was too short and once again I had to give up. I certainly wish the DNR would live up to its two promises to "do it right away." That thing is cut through so far now it can be downright dangerous to canoes and boats which have to pass under it.

JP.

A fellow I fish with once a week has decided to read Jack Pine each week just to find out what kind of guy he is out with. So now he buys the paper. Eighty percent of the times we have been out it has rained and he was with me on my last effort on that miserable damned white pine. Besides that, we haven't done too well in the fishing department either. I suggested that maybe he ought to get another fishing buddy and he countered with maybe I should get another fisherman. I am not too sure, but I suspect that we were both thinking just the opposite. Anyway, Jim, welcome to our readership, and if something I write makes you angry, all the better. Maybe you'll fish better.

'74 election: thrills, spills

With the filing of the top candidates for governor, it looks like Election Year 1974 in Michigan will be v-e-r-y interesting indeed.

First of all, we'll have the Democratic primary for Governor, with the top contestants—Jerry Cavanagh and Sander Levin—trying to convince various elements of their Democratic constituency that there's really a difference between them.

"Like Tweedledee and Tweedledum," snorted former Democratic leader Zolton Ferency, who also will be trying to become governor as standard-bearer for the Human Rights party.

Old Salt Zolton did not, however, indicate which in his mind was Dee and which was Dum.

Then comes the August primary, in which either Levin or Cavanagh will be designated as Democratic candidate for governor—barring, of course, an upsurge of sentiment for one of the lesser-known Democrats in the formal running, such as self-styled Wallace Democrat James Wells.

Next step—after the ritualistic healing of intra-party wounds—will be the party conventions in which the candidates for governor will round out their slates.

There's not as much rounding now as there used to be, thanks to the 1963 constitution and resulting streamlining of state administrative offices.

But each convention will select a lieutenant governor candidate, and someone to run for Secretary of State and for attorney general.

The conventions also pick candidates for umpteen state educational posts—a system which in my opinion could be improved by elimination.

Republicans have no problem with their man for lieutenant governor. Gov. Milliken has appointed State Rep. James J. Damman of Oakland County, and unless several skeletons come bounding out of some secret closets, Damman is as good as on the ticket right now.

Levin already has opened fire on Damman, terming him "consumer's enemy No. 1" because of some of his legislative votes. Damman has replied that Levin was not telling the whole story about Damman's votes, which, undoubtedly Levin was not, because it did not serve his purpose to be complete, but rather to be selective.

How does Mr. Damman view the proper role of government? Damman is quoted as saying recently:

"Government ought to do those things that it must do and leave to the people the things that people can do best."

Which is a philosophy not noted for originality, but nonetheless marked with traditionally conservative common sense. With a line like that, Rep. Damman is a safe traveling companion for Gov. Milliken.

Who will be the Democrat running for Lieutenant governor depends primarily on who will be the nominee—Levin or Cavanagh or Wells.

A possible bet is a long shot: How about a woman on the ticket?

That's about the only place a woman would get aboard the Democratic ticket. For attorney general, it will be Frank Kelley again, and for secretary of state, it will be Richard Austin. Both are proven vote getters, both are incumbents, both have good records in office.

For the Republicans, things are not yet clear. Lorraine Beebe—a former state senator, former director of the state consumers council, advocate of women's lib and permissive abortion—has thrown her hat in the ring for secretary of state. She might make it.

Barry Brown, director of the state labor department, wants to run for attorney general. He might make it, too.

Or any of the posts—except for Kelley, Austin and Damman—might be filled by candidates not surfaced yet. Politics is a sport with funny bounces.

Ah, yes, friends; it looks like a full year for election watchers throughout Michigan.

4th of July Winners

The Booster Club-sponsored Fourth of July events were a great success in spite of the rain, according to Dick Auman, Club President. He added that all proceeds will be spent on Grayling area youth activities.

Winners of the special prizes given away prior to the fireworks display were: One half of beef, Mrs. James Carmean of Grayling and another half of beef was won by Doug Neilson of Grayling.

Winners of a half a hog each were Carol Roszka of Roseville, and Ken Halstead of Grayling.

One outdoor gas grill was won by Beverly Stockton of Grayling and the other by Delbert Case and Dick Auman of Grayling. Special cash award winners were Bill Johnson of Frederic and Barney Dopp, Martin Kitchen and Kim Lovely, all of Grayling.

Auman, on behalf of the Booster Club, also expressed appreciation to the Grayling Volunteer Fire Department for setting off the fireworks display and providing the necessary fire protection.

He also wished to thank all those individuals, business people, groups and organizations which participated in the parade. "Without the help of these people, plus the support of the local business establishments and the help of the many volunteers, it just wouldn't have been possible," he stated.

Legion Leads Senior Div.

The American Legion senior league team posted two victories, defeating Bill Hart Ford, 6-1, and Holiday Inn, 9-2. The Legion club leads the league with a 9-1 record.

Allen Johnston was on the mound against Bill Hart Ford, and turned in a fine performance, and backed by good defensive play by his teammates.

Scott Johnston pitched 1 hit ball for 3 full innings against Holiday Inn, with his brother, Allen, coming in relief and pitched 4 innings, giving up 2 hits, to preserve Scott's first victory.

A double ring ceremony at seven o'clock Friday evening, June 21, united in marriage Diane Margaret Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Clark of Cameron Bridge Rd., Frederic, and James David Andrews, son of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Andrews of 3604 S. DeWitt Rd., St. Johns.

Rev. Paul Frederick performed the ceremony in the Michelson Memorial United Methodist Church before about 50 guests. Soloist was Mrs. Peggy Patrick and organist was Miss Debbie Netters. Selections presented were "How Great Thou Art," "Old Rugged Cross" and "Have Thine Own Way, Lord." Church decorations consisted of white gladioli, daisies and candleabra.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a chapel length gown with tiers of lace and a fingertip, mantilla style veil and carried a Bible with white roses and ivy. Mrs. Sally Schavey of St. Johns was the matron of honor and Miss Julie Wilcox, of Grayling was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were the Misses Teresa Wilcox of Grayling and Debi German of Belding. The honor attendants wore floor length gowns of blue while the bridesmaids gowns were of pink. They all had contrasting nose-gays of carnations and stephanotis.

Flower girls were Doreen German of Belding, cousin of the bride, and Lisa Hoover of St. Johns, cousin of the groom. They wore pink and white checked dresses and carried baskets of white mini-carnations. Serving the groom as best man was Lee Schovey of St. Johns. Groomsmen were Gene Andrews of St. Johns, Steve Clark of Frederic and Stan Wilcox of Grayling.

A dinner reception followed at the American Legion Hall. It featured the wedding cake, which was made by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Eria Clark of Northville.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Clark chose a floor length orange gown while Mrs. Andrews, the groom's mother, wore a blue floor length gown. Both mothers wore white gardenia corsages.

Following a week's honeymoon trip to Canada, the newlyweds are making their home in St. Johns.

The bride is a 1974 graduate of Grayling High School and is studying cosmetology at Kirtland Community College. The groom is a 1970 graduate of St. Johns High School.

Out of town guests attending the festivities, were from Greenbush, Northville, Belding, Greenville, Alma, Ovid and St. Johns.

Friske Seeks Republican Nomination In 103rd.

Former Representative Richard Friske, from the 103rd Michigan District, filed his nomination fee with the Elections Division of the Secretary of State Tuesday, and will oppose incumbent Ralph Ostling for the Republican nomination.

Friske was defeated in a three-cornered race last time when Ostling's large majority in Roscommon county gave him the nomination. Friske believes that he can win in a "head-to-head" confrontation for the votes of the 103rd district Republicans.

Ostling, who had the financial and personnel support of the Michigan Education Association, and without any Democratic activity in the primary election in this area in 1972, was able to pile up a large vote in his local area.

Richard Friske believes that with the evident trend toward conservatism, especially in the 103rd District, and with the support being promised, he can regain the seat he held for one term. "We need a return to the idea that the people of this district need representation in the legislature, not just the special interests," Friske said.

In his first term Friske incurred the wrath and opposition of the MEA, and some Republicans, because he refused to support things which he knew were not in the best interest of his District, and which the people there were opposed to. Friske plans, a "hard-hitting" campaign, discussing the issues, and seeking votes on the basis that if elected he will represent the people of the 103rd District, and again keep them informed about what is going on in their government at Lansing. "The special interests and the MEA already have," said Friske, "ample representation in Lansing. I believe that the Representative from this District should spend his time representing the interests and people of the District. If they return me to Lansing I will do just that."

In announcing his candidacy, Richard Friske stated that he will continue to be the unbossed representative of the people of the district. He will continue to represent his district instead of the special interest groups in Lansing, which control his opponent. Richard Friske pledges:

- (1) He will continue to fight to cut down state bureaucracy and wasteful spending of taxpayers' money. He is convinced that the taxpayers must have a voice in Lansing.
- (2) Friske is opposed to the present proposal of an increase in the legislator's salary. Such an increase would only aid greater inflation.
- (3) He will use his position as representative to assist in restoring law and order and to give his moral support to the policemen of the State.
- (4) Friske will continue to work to get the welfare chiselers and loafers off the welfare roles.

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

Where are You Going?

"Look, Daddy! A stopped freeway!"

Eight-year-old Kristen pointed at the span of concrete that soared over the road ahead of us and then ended abruptly as if it had encountered an invisible wall.

Two months later, we took a hike in the country. A small trail led us through green fields of waving grass and wildflowers. There the trail ended, gradually, as if reluctant to stop.

Is your life like a freeway—fast, impressive, known to many? Or is it more like a trail—plain, but comfortable, less well-known, but quite adequate?

It really doesn't matter.

The important question is: Does your life have a goal?

A freeway or trail can end, gradually or abruptly, without ever reaching a specific destination. In God, your life can have a goal. In church, He'll tell you how to reach it.

Jim Fitzgerald

IF IT FITZ

Sports vs books

While Jim Fitzgerald is on vacation, we are repeating some of his all-time favorite columns by popular request of his mother and Aunt Madeline.

After exhaustive study, 2 psychologists have reported that sports do not build character. Being a football star does not make Johnny a better person.

20,000 high school coaches just slit their jockstraps.

But I am laughing. I am remembering a basketball coach who was also a history teacher. He couldn't understand how I could be 6 foot tall and not want to play basketball. Every time he graded my history assignment, he subtracted 10% because I was a sissy and 15% because St Stephen High was in last place in the St Clair County League and it was all my fault.

He was 1 of those coaches who insisted Lincoln would never have been elected president if he hadn't been a little leaguer. World War 2 would be won on the West Point football field, he said, and France fell to Germany because French kids never learned how to play shortstop.

If that coach is still alive today, he probably thinks the world's greatest sissies are Dr Bruce Ogilvie and Dr Thomas Tutko, psychology professors at San Jose State College in California. For 8 years they tested 15,000 athletes, worked with 27 professional teams and hundreds of high school and college teams. And they concluded there is nothing to support the traditional idea that sports build character.

"Indeed," they said, "there is evidence that athletic competition limits growth in some areas...athletic competition has no more beneficial effects than intense endeavor in any other field."

So there, coach. 30 years later, my judgment is vindicated by experts. I never could understand how running around in public in my underwear would make me editor of the New York Times.

It's not that I don't like sports. As a boy, I went to all the games and crawled around under the bleachers, looking for dropped money. That's how I became a fan. I still attend more games today than most normal men. I take my son along to pick up the money although I get half if I see it first.

The other day my mother came visiting and got her first look at the recreation room recently installed in my basement. Dear old mom remembers my hyper-relaxed boyhood better than anyone. She remembers when I delivered newspapers on foot and my dad looked out the window and swore he had to line me up with some trees to see whether I was moving.

"You have finally achieved your boyhood ambition," mother said. "You have your own pool table and your own bar with running water and cold beer. I am so proud of you."

I explained to her that it was, shucks, really nothing. And I asked her if she had been worried, those many years ago, about a son who never went out for school sports.

"You were always sitting around the house reading," she remembered, "while the other boys were out playing ball. I asked you once if you thought you'd grow up to be a great man and you said you'd rather grow up to be a great reader."

Hmmm. I wonder if books build character? I don't remember any teacher ever saying so. I never won a letter for my sweater for reading. There were never any pretty cheerleaders chanting: "Go man, read that sentence, understand that paragraph. Rah rah."

"I'll bet you're glad I built my character with books instead of sports," I told mother.

"You bet," she said. "All you ever read were comic books."

Onward and Upward, with character.

EDITOR'S MAILBOX

Dear Sir:

Enclosed is a sketch of a suggestion that I have that will aid many vacationists and tourists...On weekends and holidays we have many folks stopping at our home asking where Interstate 75 or North Down River Road are located. We are residing at 80 Roberts Road which is nearly at the end of the paved portion. I believe the rest of the road goes thru the woods to the tank trail, I think. Mind You.

We do not object to aiding lost folks, we enjoy talking to out-of-towners etc., but we know it must be aggravating to people who are headed towards their vacationing destinations but end up going in the wrong direction.

There are no signs at this particular corner at the present time. I'm sending this little note to the Avalanche, because I didn't know where else to start something of this nature. Possibly you can pass it on to the proper people. If you're not interested in it, maybe you can advise me.

George J. Seifert,
Rt. 2, Box 2107, Grayling
Phone 348-9866

P.S. Many folks get lost on week days too. It's not limited to the weekends and holidays, as a matter of fact, we've had a few natives missing their turn at this particular corner due to the lack of info. and directional signs.

July 5, 1974

To whom it may concern:

I am visiting here in Grayling for the summer. We attended the parade yesterday, very unorganized, late starting.

I'd like to know why there was no discipline from you police on the kids running all over the place throwing smoke bombs? One just missed my baby and one next to me.

Also you let the people go right out in the street during the parade. Why not stay on the side walk.

If this is the way things are run you can have your town.

Mrs. May,
Mt. Clemens, Mich.

Group Bicycle Here From Ohio

Dean Cummings of Waynes-field, Ohio, and his daughters
Sheryl, age 18, and Lynne, age 16, rode to the Grayling area on bicycles this past week. A friend, Phillip Yale, age 18, of Waynesfield, also made the trip. A nephew, Rod Line, age 17, who is the son of James and Marilyn Line of Ann Arbor, joined the others in Ann Arbor.

The trip covered approximately 375 miles and took slightly over 3 days traveling time. Starting from Waynes-field, Ohio, (about 17 miles southeast of Lima) at 7:30 on Monday morning, June 17th, the cyclists arrived in the Grayling area about 1:30 p.m. on Thursday. They were delayed en route by heavy rains on some occasions and by an accident when Yale bent the rear wheel of his bicycle. He was not injured but the accident delayed the group over half a day in Ann Arbor.

The five bicyclists tried to stay on the back roads whenever possible traveling through Beaverdam, Deshler, and Grand Rapids in Ohio and through Blissfield, Owosso, Sanford, and Gladwin in Michigan. Overnight stops were made at Ann Arbor, Owosso, and Gladwin.

The group has enjoyed bicycling for a number of years and the Cummings find it is excellent exercise to keep in shape for downhill skiing in Colorado and Michigan. They also enjoy vacationing at K.P.
Lake to cross-country ski on the quiet trails around Grayling in winter.

All the bicycles used on the trip were purchased from,
"Charlie, the Bicycle Man" in Lima, Ohio. Dean rode a "Paramount" model; Sheryl and Lynne rode World "Voyagers"
Phil a "Sprint" and Rod a "Sports Tourer," all made by Schwinn.

Cummings is president of Cummings Grain Company in Waynesfield and a property owner at K.P. Lake in Michigan. His daughter, Sheryl, graduated from Waynesfield High School this year and will be attending Bob Jones University this fall. Lynne will be a junior at Waynesfield in September. Rod will be a senior at Ann Arbor Pioneer High School and Phil graduated from Waynesfield High School and will attend Ashland College in the fall.

Summer Head Start Program

On July 1, Northern Michigan Head Start opened a Summer Head Start Program for 18 children in the Grayling area. The program will run for 6 weeks and is being operated with the assistance of the Crawford AuSable Schools. The program is located in the Elementary School. Meals are being provided by the Crawford County Commission on Aging.

Northern Michigan Head Start is the successor to One CAP, Inc. which operated previous programs and is a prelude to the first full year program for Grayling.

The full year program would include 20 children from low income families and would have a full curriculum. The curriculum will include language skills, motor skills and other components designed to assure each child parity upon entering kindergarten.

Miss Kay Shiel is the teacher for the program. Mrs. Garlene Horning and Mrs. Marie Ann Moss are teacher aides. Mrs. Moss doubles as the van driver.

River Country Players Start Rehearsals

The River Country Players have started rehearsals on the play, "Barefoot in the Park," which will be produced by special arrangement with Samuel French, Inc.

The cast includes 2 women and 4 men. The part of the young lawyer, Paul Bratter, is played by Jim Curcuro. His wife, Corie Bratter, is played by Norma Naour. Sue Barnett, of St. Helen, is playing the part of Corie's mother, Ethel Banks and Bill Weiman is Victor Velasco, the upstairs neighbor. The parts of the telephone repairman and the delivery man are still open.

The play will be presented on August 15, 16 & 17th, during the Milltown Festival, at the Joseph Stripe Auditorium at 8:00 p.m.

If anyone is interested in trying out for the remaining parts, or is interested in helping on sets, makeup or the production or being ushers, please contact Beryl Konopnicki at 348-7376, or Ernie Moon at 348-8236 or visit one of the rehearsals which are held on Monday's at 9:00, Tuesday's at 7:00, and Thursday's at 7:00, at the Joseph Stripe Auditorium.

Antique Market

A unique antique and collectable market is coming to the Grayling Mall, advertised for Saturday, July 13, 10 a.m. until 9 p.m.; Sunday, July 14, 11 a.m. until 5 p.m. Known state-wide, the Merry Market-ers always promise an interesting variety of memorabilia of yesteryear for the visitor to either buy or browse through. Friday evening, July 12, will be a busy time for many of the participants as they unload their vehicles and set up their displays. The readers of this paper are invited to drop in between the hours of 6 p.m. and 9 p.m. for an early preview and buying fest if they wish. Different merchandise will be added during the course of the market.

Because of the response of the public to the Merry Market-ers' antique and collectable market in 1973, Hallmark Developers (developers of the Grayling Mall) are credited with bringing this group to this area for your enjoyment. Admission to the market is free.

could be planted next Spring. A similar breeding pond at Fife Lake, he said, in operation since 1969, produces 12,000 walleyes a year, and catches up to 26 inches have been reported.

President Ralph E. King told the meeting that an application for a club license at the old Wayside Inn on the eastern shore of Lake Margrethe had been denied by the Grayling Township Board. LMPOA members had opposed the application.

The membership voted to fill three expiring directorships for three year terms, as follows: Ralph E. King, re-elected; Willard Jackson, re-elected; and James M. Rifkin.

In other action, the meeting: Approved a $75 expenditure to participate in an annual water quality sampling program, beginning next Spring.

Complimented Deputy Timothy Coe of the Crawford County Sheriff's Marine Patrol, for his tact and courtesy in boat inspections.

Asked for more visible vehicle patrolling of the Lake cottage areas.

The membership also moved to explore the availability of Grayling Township facilities for future meetings, and to inquire about Camp Grayling policy toward unsupervised overnight camping by civilians on the military reservation's southwestern Lake shoreline.

Chamber To Have New Maps and Brochure

A special committee set up by the Board of Directors of the Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce gave their approval for new Crawford County and City of Grayling maps and a new 1975 Brochure and Business Directory.

The Committee, consisting of Wayne Andrews, Chamber President; Al Westervelt; Ralph Sanders, Phyllis Sauter, Paul Thomson, and Earl H. "Chum" Longworth, Chamber Executive Manager, made the decision at a meeting held in the Chamber office on July 1st.

The map will be 18" x 24" in size, folded to a size of 4 x 9, and will be a four-color map of Crawford County on one side and the City of Grayling map on the reverse side in black and white color. The maps will be sold at cost only to Chamber members who wish quantity lots, and this cost will be approximately 9 cents per map.

The new 1975 Brochure will be printed along the same lines as the 1974 Brochure which has proved very successful. However, the new Brochure will have new copy and photos depicting the various points of interest and outdoor activities that can be had in Crawford County ... plus ... accommodations directory; food and fun spots; pages on fishing, snowmobiling, canoeing, and skiing. The last several pages will be a very comprehensive business directory of Chamber members.

Total copies to be printed are 80,000 and distribution will be to Michigan State Tourist Information Centers; AAA Travel Centers in Michigan, Ohio, and Indiana; (6) Travel Shows; (2) Ski & Snowmobile Shows; National Guard groups in Michigan, Ohio, and Indiana; and approximately 15,000 are sent from the Chamber office in response to telephone and letter inquiries.
